

Bureaurama design Jerszy Seymour

The Bureaurama collection designed by Jerszy Seymour is conceived for a dynamic and constantly evolving workplace and is a new way of seeing the office as a space that is functional and shared, yet freely customisable.

First came the tables and stools, whose graphic, essential lines break the schemes of monotony, bringing a breath of lightness to the workplace. This year we are also presenting a bookcase that makes it possible to configure even smarter solutions for work or socialisation, becoming a hub for exchanging new ideas and new visions.