

Costume design Stefan Diez

Costume for Magis is Stefan Diez' take on a modular sofa system with a strong emphasis on family-friendliness and sustainability. The key component at the core of Costume is a 4mm thin structure made from recycled and recyclable Polypropylene: its integrated, refined details give the sofa's dress a tight and perfect fit. Thanks to the elastic loops hooked into the bottom, the sofa can be dressed and undressed by the owner at any time for washing or replacement.

The modular system consists of one single unit, which can be interlocked in various constellations or extended with armrests, according to individual preference.

Embedded pocket springs ensure outstanding comfort, while minimizing the use of ecologically problematic synthetic foam. All parts are separately replaceable, maximizing the sofa's lifespan.
