Elevating the concept of lounging in comfort to new heights, the new Loafer sofa, designed by Space Copenhagen for &Tradition, is the epitome of luxury.

While spearheading the renovation of Arne Jacobsen's SAS Royal Hotel, Space Copenhagen sought a subtle look of sophistication for &Tradition's Loafer lounge chair, where the luxurious feeling came from both the comfort and sense of aesthetics. For the Loafer sofa, designers Signe Bindslev Henriksen and Peter Bundgaard Rützou wanted something equally as simple and streamlined.

Capturing the same understated elegance with identical depth and seat height, the subtle curves, linear look and plush appearance of the Loafer sofa invite you to relax and lounge for hours on end. Boasting a simple design language that belies the complexity concealed within, the Loafer sofa is soft yet supportive, set on a sturdy foundation upholstered to maximise comfort and detailed with decorative stitching. Available in two and three-seater versions and in a range of fabrics and colours.

Space Copenhagen is a multi-disciplinary award-winning design studio founded in 2005 by Signe Bindslev Henriksen and Peter Bundgaard Rützou. Graduates of The Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts, School of Architecture, their scope of projects extends from furniture, design objects and art installations to interiors which draw on an elegant and contemporary mix of natural materials and muted colours.

Established in 2010, &Tradition is a Danish design company that marries tradition with innovation. Our unique portfolio of furniture and lighting spans designs from the 1930s to the present day and includes interior objects by internationally acclaimed designers.
